Schools seek State funds to pay bonds, lower taxes

Sue Sedivec is Community Relations Officer

Sue Sedivec, a dispatcher with the Antioch Police Department for the past half year, is the new Community Relations Officer for the Village. Her appointment, on the recommendation of Police Chief Jack Wells and the members of the Village board Police committee was approved by the full Village Board Monday night. The appointment is effective immediately.

Chief Wells stressed that the Community Relations program is "a pilot program, geared to the needs of the people of Antioch."

"We are not simply adopting someone else's program," the Chief said, "We are working out the details of what we need in Antioch."

Both Chief Wells and Miss Sedivec were emphatic that there is to be no limitation of age or on the types of problems that the Community Relations Officer will deal with. They said that the program is not to be considered exclusively a "juvenile" program, nor an "adult" program. It is hoped by those who have helped to create the new program that persons of all ages will feel free to have the benefit of the Community

The Business Managers of Antioch Community High School and the Antioch Grade Schools (District 34) have been busy for the past few weeks completing paper work that may result in lower taxes for property owners in the districts.

According to High School Business Manager Ken Wierschem, that school could qualify for up to $64,000 this year through the recently enacted Capital Assistance Program. If the high school receives the full amount, it would mean an automatic reduction in local property taxes of about 7 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, Wierschem said.

District 34 could qualify for as much as $43,000 this year through the program, Business Manager Sam Kohr told the School Board at its December meeting. Based on the total assessed valuation of the district, this figures to a possible tax reduction of about 9 cents per $100.

While the amounts of possible tax reduction do not appear to be very much, Wierschem

Antioch took a major step forward regarding orderly growth and development when the Village Board, Monday night, adopted an official map and standards governing development.

The map, which becomes effective 15 days after its filing with the County Recorder of Deeds, was suggested by professional planner Bruce Christensen, who is guiding the Planning Commission in the preparation of a Comprehensive Plan for the Village. The map provides a kind of "skeleton" which will be "fleshed out" when the Comprehensive Plan is completed. For the time being, the official map and standards meet the minimum requirements of State law to give the Village jurisdiction over developments within one-and-a-half miles of the Village limits.

Besides the map, showing proposed locations of major streets and public grounds, standards were adopted for pavements, sanitary sewerage, storm water drainage, water supply and street lighting. These standards were taken from the Subdivision Ordinance previously adopted by the Village Board.

Interested persons may view or purchase copies of the official map and standards at the Village Hall.

CODIFICATION

As directed at the last Village Board meeting, Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz reported on her investigation of possibilities for having all the Village ordinances codified. Such an undertaking, she pointed out, would require the searching of Village Board minutes back to 1892.

Mrs. Sterbenz said that she had contacted Mr. David Kaiser, of Milwaukee, who has done similar work for Grayslake, McHenry and other area villages. Kaiser responded that he could do the research work and provide the Village with 50 bound copies of the final municipal code for a fee of $3,600. For additional fees of $400 and $300, he would include the already updated Zoning Ordinance and Subdivision Ordinance, respectively, in the bound volume.

Mayor Robert Wilton appointed a special Municipal Code committee of Trustees Nelson, Walsh and Seemann to investigate the matter further.

NEW RESTAURANT

Building Inspector Walt Delaney revealed that he has received several permit applications from the proprietors of a planned new restaurant to be located at 914 Main Street. That building was formerly occupied by a restaurant which closed last Summer.

Showing a lengthy list of health code standards that must be met, Delaney said that the county health officer would not issue a food permit until he was assured that all necessary corrections had been made. The Village, he added, will be informed when the standards are met.

Meanwhile, the Building Inspector recommended that a permit be issued to cover needed electrical work, which the Board then authorized. Delaney suggested that the matters of revamping the existing sign and remodeling the front of the building be delayed until the county food permit is issued.

WASTE MANAGEMENT

Trustee Irv Walsh sought from the other trustees an answer he could give to the officials of Waste Management Corp. on their request to erect a building on their disposal site east of the industrial park. The building is to house facilities for repairing and storing the company's trucks. Part of the problem which has arisen over the request is the provision for a chemical toilet on the site. Village ordinance prohibits such facilities except on a temporary basis.

Bruce Christensen interjected that perhaps a broader question concerned whether the disposal operation itself is in compliance with Village ordinances. Christensen informed the trustees that the Planning Commission has submitted a series of questions to Waste Management regarding a necessary application to the State Environmental Protection Agency.

The trustees decided to again table the matter until a reply is received by the Planning Commission from the company.

SUMP PUMPS

Walsh also raised a question concerning the problem of sump pumps in the village depositing water on the surface which freezes in the winter causing a

Relations Officer's services.

Miss Sedivec, a native of Antioch, is a graduate of Northern Illinois University, where she majored in psychology. She said that it has long been her desire to be involved in youth work or some type of counseling service. While a student at Northern, she served as a volunteer counselor at St. Charles School for Boys. Chief Wells expressed great confidence in her capabilities for the new position.

While serving as the Community Relations Officer, Miss Sedivec will remain as a member of the Police Department. With her training as a dispatcher, Chief Wells said, she will be able to substitute in case of illness. In addition, it is expected that her experience with the types of community problems existing in Antioch will be an asset in the Community Relations post.

Miss Sedivec stated that she does not anticipate any conflict between her new role as Community Relations Officer and her membership in the Police Department. "If anything," she said, "this should encourage people to seek help. It should, in turn, help the image of the police, in that we are providing this community-wide counseling service to the people of the Village."

Although emphasizing that she will be available to any and all residents of the Village regardless of age, Miss Sedivec said that she is looking forward particularly to working with the youth of the community at all levels.

"I want young people -- or anyone for that matter -- to feel free to offer their ideas and suggestions as to how I can be of service to them," she said. These suggestions, she added, will be evaluated and put into practice, if feasible.

Letters will be sent to all churches, civic groups and each school in the Village, including Channel Lake, Emmons, Grass Lake and Oakland Schools. Miss Sedivec will be available to the needs of all of these groups. She said that she also hopes to visit each of the schools to talk with the faculty and students.

Miss Sedivec indicated that she is quite excited about the new responsibilities and is anxious to get into the job. She has many ideas about Community Relations, some of which she said, can be put into practice immediately, while others lie further in the future.

The following schedule of her availability, as listed by Chief Wells, is tentative and subject to changes as the need demands.

Sunday: she is available by appointment only. Appointments can be made by phone to Miss Sedivec at 395-2444. (In the near future a private phone will be installed and assigned to the Community Relations Officer.)

Monday and Tuesday: she is available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

SIGN OFFICIAL MAP. Mayor Robert Wilton prepares to ink his signature on the official map adopted by the Village Board Monday night. The map and standards for future Village development is one of the first steps in the preparation of a Comprehensive Plan. hazardous situation. After much discussion stressing the immediacy of the problem and how best to arrive at a solution, it was turned back to Walsh's

On these days she is particularly available for school programs.

Wednesday: she is available from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for general counseling, in private, at the police department.

Thursday: she is available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., particularly for work with civic groups, churches, etc.

Friday: she is available from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. for general counseling, in private, at the police department or the mayor's office in the Village Hall, depending on the individual need.

Saturday: she is available from 8:30 a.m. to Noon by appointment or walk-in at the police department or the mayor's office.

"By these varied hours and days, Miss Sedivec will work, we believe at this time, to the greatest availability possible," Chief Wells stated. "We want help from anyone interested in suggestions that will benefit the Village of Antioch," he continued. "All inquiries will be handled by Miss Sedivec on a confidential basis," Chief Wells assured.

"Speaking for the Village Board and the Police Department, we sincerely hope that our residents will take advantage of this service that is being provided for them," Chief Wells said.

BILL PAID

The first payment was authorized to EMCO Contractors for work on the sewage treatment plant expansion. The amount of $55,823 will be paid when the contractor's waivers are received.

An additional charge of $638 was approved for Les Sorenson to cover Workman's Compensation insurance. Trustee Walsh said that such an additional charge is normal at the end of the year because of extra employees hired by the Village during the year.

In other business, the trustees:

- gave approval for the Village to send three men to a water control course at CLC at a cost of $32.50 each.

- agreed to spend $495 to have electrical outlets added to the new street light poles being ordered for Lake Street. The outlets will allow the hanging of Christmas decorations on the poles.

- gave Public Works Director Tod Maplethorpe permission to be off work January 18 to participate in a three-day fire training workshop in Glen Ellyn. Tod has been asked to serve on the panel for the workshop.

- approved the naming of a committee comprised of Ken Wierschem, Don Amundsen, Bruce Jablonski, Mike Haley, Irv Walsh and Marge Nelson to meet with officials of Lake Villa relative to common planning problems.

- accepted the resignation of Ed Olszewski, who is moving to Largo, Florida, from the Fire Department.

First session of 93rd Congress: Laws passed

In addition to the previously reported legislative measures enacted at the First Session of the 93rd Congress, a number of other new laws have been passed relating to (a) Social Security changes, (b) Veterans Benefits, and (c) the Energy Crisis. All of these measures have a broad effect on citizens of Illinois' 13th Congressional District.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The Congress accelerated the date on which cost-of-living increases in social security benefits will commence. Under the prior law, the effective date for this increase would be July 1, 1974. However, under the measure passed by the House and Senate, social security checks reflecting an increase of approximately seven percent will be mailed on March 1, 1974, and checks totalling 11 percent will be provided beginning on June 1, 1974.

Another benefit to Social Security beneficiaries employed under Social Security will be realized in the maximum earnings of $2400 (in place of the present $2100 per year limit) which they will be entitled to receive without a corresponding reduction in Social Security benefits. However, the new schedule of payments has produced a corresponding increase in Social Security taxes, with the result that both the rate of tax and the maximum amounts subject to taxation will have to be raised. Under the new schedule, earnings up to $13,200 will be subject to a tax rate of almost six percent, for a total of $772 per year imposed upon virtually all employed persons. In 1981 this tax will be increased automatically to more than $970.

VETERANS

Pensions for veterans, including their dependents and the survivors of deceased veterans were raised roughly by 10 percent. In addition, the Health Care Expansion Act offers special benefits for veterans and their dependents covering expanded medical care and hospital treatment.

Other improvements will benefit hospitalized and disabled veterans with the result that disability payments will date from the time when disability occurs instead of the date when application for benefits is filed, as under prior law. An added feature will increase the amount of social security which veterans may receive without incurring a reduction in veterans benefits.

Still another measure affecting veterans provides subsidized interest payments on home mortgage loans for the special benefit of veterans who make home purchases.

ENERGY CRISIS

During the closing hours of the First Session, the 93rd Congress passed the Energy Emergency Act aimed at devising a program to meet the shortages in petroleum products and other scarce sources of energy. This comprehensive measure establishes a Federal Energy Administration (FEA) authorized to develop plans and programs for an equitable distribution of the more limited supplies of gasoline, jet fuel, heating oil and other petroleum products. The FEA Administrator is authorized to develop Energy Conservation Plans with the cooperation of the large producers of petroleum and other energy products. In addition, the Administrator is directed to develop Voluntary Energy Conservation Agreements with wholesale and retail establishments in order to conserve and allocate at the consumer level the more limited supplies of gasoline, heating oil and other energy sources.

An important amendment offered by U.S. Representative Barry Goldwater, Jr., of California is intended to avoid discrimination against all types of recreational, business and other non-critical activities where jet fuel, gasoline and other petroleum products are essential. Under the Goldwater Amendment, the Administrator is prohibited from unreasonable discrimination in the allocation of refined petroleum and electrical energy products.

The measure would prohibit any profiteering by the large oil companies by subjecting windfall profits (any profits above the 1967-71 average) to a tax rate of 100 percent. However, this windfall tax would not apply to producers of coal - it being the intent of the Congress that coal mining should be encouraged. It is consistent with our system to recognize that the prospect of profits provides the best hope that such expanded mining operations will be undertaken.

The measure provides special benefits for workers who suffer unemployment by reason of curtailment of energy allocations. This provision may ease the strain on many displaced persons including pilots and other airline employees who lose their jobs because of elimination or consolidation of Earlier, the Congress approved legislation to give a green light to construction of the Alaskan pipeline expected to provide large quantities of oil from the Prudoe Bay area of Alaska beginning in 1977.

CONCLUSION

While these substantial legislative measures may seem impressive, a far better record would have been established were it not for the ongoing conflict between the White House and the Congress. There is no indication that this situation will be eased in the immediate future. Still another roadblock to additional legislative activity is the fact that 1974 is an election year. It is suspected that several measures which have special political significance have been delayed in order to secure maximum political advantage from their enactment at a time closer to election day.

The congress is in recess until January 21, 1974, after which date these weekly Reports from Washington will be resumed.

THE DIVINE SAGA

Christmas now has come and gone
And the message the angels have sung
Fades away in this busy world.
What if Jesus had never come
To bring hope and life to mankind -
Subjects of a cruel and benighted world?

And how thoughtless can they be
Who the Bible would disdain?
For no bards have ever penned
A Saga ne'er so great
As "Glory to God in the Highest
And of peace on earth good will to men."

'Tis not in man to know the way of life,
Who blindly scorn the great Creator
And bow in vain to gods and idols.
For God so loved the world -
He gave His only begotten Son
That whosoever believeth in Him
Should not perish - but have life!

Ne'er a man hath seen our God
E'en though through space they glide.
For God is a quickening Spirit
Expressed in the image of His Son.
Brief was His sojourn here with men
And oft we esteemed Him not.
But through the decades many have found
Solace and strength in the Word
He gave -
'I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

By the grace of God we start a new Year -
Men greet one another a good wish for the year.
For greater love hath no man than this
Christ laid down His life for our misdeeds
And covered our guilt with His own Blood.
To them that believe, all find a new lease
In this mortal life - new joy and new peace.

Many Thanks, Ken and Sam

Antioch area property tax payers will be pleased to know that they have at least two friends. These men, who have put in many extra hours to save us money, are Ken Wierschem, Business Manager at Antioch Community High School, and Sam Kohr, who holds the same post for the Antioch Grade Schools (District 34).

Ken and Sam were acting, of course, with the approval and encouragement of their respective Superintendents and Boards of Education. However, the work was all theirs.

Last Summer the State Legislature enacted, and the governor signed into law, a measure known as the Elementary and Secondary School Capital Assistance Program. As explained in our news story on page 1, part of the new law provides State funds to assist local school districts in paying off bonds issued in recent years for capital improvements.

Antioch High School could qualify for up to $64,000 of these debt service grants. District 34 could be eligible for as much as $43,000.

These funds, if granted, can be used only for paying off the bonds. And, according to the provisions of the law, the district tax rate for bond retirement will be reduced in direct proportion to the State grant.

For an average homeowner, if the schools receive the full amounts to which they are entitled, it will mean a decrease in property taxes in the coming year of $7 to $10 attributable to the high school and $8 to $12 attributable to the grade school.

The commendable fact in all of this is that the two men did not HAVE TO go to the trouble of applying for the grants; the program is voluntary.

The "trouble" involved is the preparation of what is called a District Facility Plan. This document, which takes several weeks to compile, consists of tables of figures and narrative explanations concerning physical facilities, enrollment, educational programs, and district fiscal information. Much of this data must also be projected five years into the future.

Ken and Sam did not have to do this work. They did so merely to save local taxpayers some money.

The bonds would be paid off no matter what the local districts did. The tax rate for these bond retirement funds is computed directly by the County Clerk and added to the property tax bills. The Business Managers had no worry about the debts not being paid.

Moreover, if the Capital Assistance grants are received, the County Clerk reduces the applicable tax rate to raise only the remaining amount needed. This is where the savings to the local taxpayer is achieved. The local school districts get no extra money through the program.

So, to Ken Wierschem and Sam Kohr, our thanks in the name of all property tax payers in the Antioch area -- for a little extra work on our behalf. Your kind of dedication and concern for the public seems regrettably rare in recent times.

PLANNING GOALS DISCUSSED, SIGN ORDINANCE STILL COMING

The members of the Planning Commission were presented with a preliminary set of Community Planning Goals for discussion at their January 3rd meeting. Bruce Christensen, of the Harland-Bartholomew firm, offered the 33 goals as a starting point from which the Planning Commission could develop its own goals.

Christensen also revealed that he did not have a completed draft of a proposed sign ordinance yet, as he had promised at the previous meeting. The professional planner said that he had read some "really dreadful ordinances" in the past few weeks. His conclusion was that he would have to draw up one of his own.

The goals being discussed by the Commission are to form the basis for the Comprehensive Plan that is currently being prepared. They stipulate "an objective or end toward the attainment of which plans and policies are directed," Christensen said. "The formulation of goals is, therefore, an essential task which must be undertaken before plans can be prepared," he added.

The preliminary statement of 33 goals prepared by Christensen covers seven areas, including: general goals; economic, population and land-use goals; transportation; central business area; community facilities; public utilities; and implementation goals.

Most of the goals are stated in quite general terms, which, Christensen said, is intentional, since they must serve as a basis for planning for future years as well as the present.

"You do have to have a reason for doing what you are doing," Christensen told the Planning Commission. This is especially the case, he added, if a particular planning decision is challenged.

There was little discussion as Christensen read through the suggested goals and explained some of them more fully.

Occasionally a question was raised or the need for further clarification of a particular goal was indicated. For example, the first goal desires that the present "pleasant character and quality" of the Village of Antioch be maintained. Commission members agreed that such an experience is open wide to interpretation. It was pointed out that the response received from the Resident Attitude Survey would reveal how those who live in Antioch view the character of their hometown.

After three weeks to look over the preliminary goals and give the matter further thought, the Planning Commission will discuss them again at its next meeting, January 24. All Planning Commission meetings are open to the public.

KEEP THOSE QUESTIONNAIRES COMING IN!!!!

Village officials are encouraging residents to complete and return the Resident Attitude Survey mailed recently to every household in the Village of Antioch. The purpose of the survey, as explained in a cover letter from Mayor Robert Wilton and Planning Commission Chairman Robert Bemis, is to assure that the Comprehensive Plan being prepared will "reflect the opinions, needs and interests of the people of Antioch."

Professional planner Bruce Christensen pointed out that this does not mean that a "majority vote" will determine what goes into the Comprehensive Plan. Rather, he said, the survey indicates what residents are concerned about and the kind of village they desire to live in.

As of Tuesday morning, some 230 of the approximately 1,000 questionnaires sent out had been returned. Village officials are asking that all surveys be returned before Friday, January 18.

AL DITTMAN WOOD CARVING EXHIBIT AT STANLEY'S

During the month of January, Al Dittman will exhibit his woodcarvings at Stanley's Mens Clothing Store in the Antioch Shopping Plaza on Orchard Street. He is considered by many to be an accomplished sculptor, wood carver and painter.

Retiring in June 1972 after 20 years of service with the Antioch school system, Al has devoted many hours to his hobby, using several different woods and treatments. His exhibit includes a few caricatures, many different animals, free forms and frames.

Be sure to take a minute and go and see this marvelous exhibit. We really have a very talented artist in our midst.

TRAVELING WITH TAFFY

JAPAN - A "UNION OF OPPOSITES"

By Taffy Engelhardt

Japan is truly a "union of opposites." One moment you're trying to cope with the never ending, always increasing pace of traffic and the next moment you're sipping tea in the simple home of a hospitable Japanese family, not concerned with meeting certain deadlines. From hot pants to kimonos, discoteques to temples and Holiday Inns to 'ryokans' (Japanese style inns) - Japan's advancement does not destroy its customs.

The hospitality of the Japanese makes a lasting impression on visitors from the U.S. as well as countries all over the world. You just could not imagine how enthusiastic they are to help you.

When staying in Kyoto, I experienced something that I will never forget. My roommate and I happened to be spending our last day in Kyoto shopping before returning to the harbor in Kobe. We walked into a small Shinto Shrine and explored the pagodas and beautiful scenery. As we were leaving, a man came out of his home and invited us in. He and his wife had seen us earlier and had tea and cookies waiting for us in their tidy living room. Their house was immaculate. Beauty through simplicity is a dominating theme in Japan.

As we talked with them, we soon found out that this man was the Chief Shinto Priest who maintains and performs religious ceremonies and festivals for his Kitashirakawa Shrine, along with eight other shrines. A priest for the Shinto religion is not in any way like that of a Christian pastor in the United States. He does a variety of things from janitorial work to performing wedding ceremonies. He literally does everything that needs to be done in keeping his shrine in order. We were lucky enough to see a "baptismal" ceremony which was different than any I'd ever seen.

We had a bit of communication problem with our Japanese friends, Michi and Ayako, but they spoke English and we managed except for a few minor misinterpretations. We were all very interested in one another and spent quite a bit of time just getting to know the habits, gestures and mannerisms of a different culture.

Before we knew it, Michi and Ayako began taking us places. This couple, whom we had never met before, was so warm and kind to us that we felt amazingly at ease with them. They took us to dinner at a Japanese style restaurant, to a temple, sightseeing and driving through the countryside. They absolutely refused to allow us to pay for anything. Michi and Ayako devoted their entire day to us.

Michi and Ayako are extremely active for a middle aged couple. They both teach swimming and skiing, using their shrine as a training grounds for many of their students. It was very important to them that we understood how athletic and strong they are. They showed us their muscles and explained that they never take medicine or get sick and they only require

5 hours of sleep, since they have trained their bodies that way. We all laughed together at our peculiarities and differences. But our thoughts were one in the same. We had grown very very close to each other and were sad that our time was growing short.

Michi and Ayako gave each of us a handwoven, handmade pure silk kimono as we left their home. They are so beautiful. To show our appreciation, we gave them matching WCA T-shirts. We were very embarrassed to give them such small gifts after all they'd done for us but they were overwhelmed and promised they'd wear them when doing exercises.

pointed out that the savings for high school district taxpayers could more than offset the recent increase approved for a county-wide vocational center.

The Capital Assistance Program, was passed by the State legislature and signed into law last Summer. The legislation authorizes $400 million over the next four years, and appropriated $100 million to cover the current school year.

Of this amount, $25 million is allocated to the Chicago School system, $50 million for new construction downstate, and $25 million for what is called "debt service grants" for downstate districts. It is in this latter area that the two local school districts are seeking funds.

Debt service grants from the State Capital Development Board are intended to help local districts pay off bonds issued between January 1969 and October 1973. The State will pay up to a certain percentage of half of the annual principal and interest payment due on eligible bonds. The percentage, which varies from one district to another, is based on the district's relative assessed valuation per pupil. Thus, schools with lower per pupil valuations qualify for more assistance.

By use of the State formula, both the high school and the grade school are eligible for grants which would cover approximately one-fourth of their annual bond payments. How much each school actually receives will depend upon how many schools go to the bother of applying for the funds and what their total bond payments are.

Wierschem said that no one really knows how much would be needed to cover the payments on all school bonds issued between January 1969 and October 1973. If the applications received require more than has been appropriated, each district will receive a pro-rata share of the funds for which it is eligible.

The paper work required for applying for a grant may be enough to frighten the less-hardy among school business managers. According to the procedures for filing as outlined by the Capital Development Board, each local district must prepare and submit a District Facility Plan. In order to maintain eligibility, the District Facility Plan must be updated, submitted and approved each year.

The District Facility Plan consists of four parts, concerned with: physical facilities, enrollments, educational programs, and district fiscal information. In each of the areas both tabulated figures and narrative explanations are required. In addition, much of the information must be projected five years into the future. General information concerning the district, and the actual grant application form must also be prepared.

The deadline for submitting the applications is January 19; however, it's not clear how soon after that deadline grants will be made. The first grant will cover the present school year. And whatever the amount, it will mean an automatic reduction in the tax rate paid by district property-owners.

MARK ANDREWS NAMED TO ROCKFORD ALL-TOURNEY TEAM

Mark Andrews

Antioch Varsity Basketball starter Mark Andrews was named to the All-Tourney team at the Rockford Holiday Tournament. Since, obviously, there can be only five men chosen for the first team, it is to Mark's honor to be one of those selected out of more than 100 players from the 16 schools in the tourney.

He follows a tradition established by several other Antioch players, including Vic Rogers (1964), Tyrone Walls (1965, 1966) and Tim Mieure (1971, 1972).

Mark's father, Varsity Basketball Coach Roger Andrews, revealed that Mark "started playing basketball almost as soon as he could hold the ball." His participation in organized basketball began in sixth grade and has continued every year since.

Coach Andrews said that his son is very dedicated to the sport and has "wanted to be a fine player" for as long as he can remember.

For the past six summers Mark has participated in various basketball camps, including the Hoosier Camp, conducted by Indiana University's late coach Branch McCracken, the Milwaukee Bucks Camp, and Marquette Coach Al McGuire's Camp at Naperville. This past summer he attended a camp at the University of Wisconsin.

Mark definitely includes basketball in his college plans, according to his father. About 20 or more schools have already contacted the 6' 3" Senior. Though Mark has made no firm plans as of this time, his father revealed that Mark favors either Augustana, Bradley, Washington State or Utah.

R.T.A. FOES ORGANIZE

Suburban forces looking for the defeat of the Regional Transit Authority referendum, March 19, are beginning to mobilize. Local officials from throughout the six-county area were invited to a meeting Saturday, January 5, at the Marriott Hotel, near O'Hare Airport, under the banner of "kNow RTA."

Opposition to the RTA proposal is being led by a group of suburban legislators who had opposed the compromise bill in the final days of the special legislative session last Fall. Failing to amend this bill to their satisfaction, the legislators met and decided that their only alternative is to work for the defeat of the referendum and then seek a more acceptable RTA measure in the Spring.

Chief among those legislators involved in the "kNow RTA" movement is 32nd District Republican Don Deuster of Mundelein, who acted as moderator for Saturday's meeting. Also present from the 32nd District was State Senator Karl Berning of Deerfield.

Deuster, along with many of the other representatives at the session, scored the RTA bill as having "deficiencies on every page." He has referred to the legislation as a "monstrosity."

Berning expressed concern over "two new concepts (in the RTA bill) which will impinge on the State's general revenues." One section will allocate part of the general sales tax from the region - usually destined for the General Fund - to the RTA. "Once this concept is established," Berning warned, "there is no way any other area of the State could be refused the same privilege of 'raiding' the State treasury."

The Republican State Senator also criticized the diversion of Road Fund monies to the RTA.

The meeting was not without a dissenting voice. Ron Stoupe, a State Representative candidate from Huntley, in southern McHenry County, passed out a mimeographed sheet which, he said, "rebutts the 12 arguments most frequently heard against an RTA."

The key note for the anti-RTA forces was sounded by Rep. Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights, who said, "All we have in Senate Bill 27 (the RTA bill) is faith and hope; there are no guarantees."

NOISE WORKSHOP EXPLAINS FEDERAL REGULATIONS

A workshop sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will explain the new federal regulations concerning noise in industrial plants under the Occupational Safety and Health Act. The free workshop, which all businessmen are urged to attend, will begin at 12:30 p.m., January 25, at Lorenz's.

A buffet lunch will be available at 12:00, at a charge of $3.50 per person.

Three speakers from Environmental Audiology and Research, Inc. will speak on the following topics: noise analyses; selection of appropriate hearing protective devices, on-site hearing testing, noise reduction engineering, etc. A question-and-answer period will follow.

According to a spokesman for the Chamber, the federal regulations will make it highly advisable - if not mandatory - to have employees' hearing tested either soon after they are hired or shortly before they terminate employment. This applies to small firms, as well as large even those with only one machine.

The Environmental Audiology and Research firm offers a hearing test service which, if used, would eliminate the need for each firm having to purchase its own testing equipment.

How do you like going to work in the dark? Sure is hard to get out of bed these cold mornings.

Hear tell many New Year's resolutions were made.....Diet, that's the word!

A champagne breakfast was hosted by Marge and Don Gaa of David Street, Antioch on Christmas morning to announce the engagement of their son Bill to Kathy Randall, daughter of Cliff and Liz Randall of Tiffany Road, Antioch. Attending were the parents of the bride to be, Mike Randall, Joe and Marilyn Sterbenz, Bill's godparents, and Bill's brothers, Don and Jim. No date has been set for the wedding as yet. Congratulations you two!

Congrats are also in order for Miss Chris Arendt who became engaged over the Christmas holidays.

Mayor Wilton and daughter Patti spent New Years in California at the Rose Bowl Game. Ah - football when it is warm! Sounds great.

Saw Ed and Evelyn Strang looking well rested after a holiday trip to daughter Jane Pullin's in Colorado. Also back from a holiday vacation in Hawaii are Ken and Diane Schultz and family.

Trudy Mann spent a happy holiday week with her daughter who was visiting with her family from Haddam, Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Irv Pederson were the guests of honor at a dinner party given by their daughters Gail Fields and Lori Bussone celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary. Congrats you two. May you have many more happy years together.

Two of our local belles are to be congratulated for their hard work - Marge Gaa was top "salesman" of the month at Lyons Ryan Ford and Shirley Bunker completed Course 1 of the Realtors Institute of Illinois in December.

Get well wishes to Ted Poulos who is a patient at Victory Memorial Hospital with a broken hip due to a recent fall and to Dawn Woods who suffered a broken leg in a snowmobiling accident. Hope Evelyn Palaske is on the road to recovery after a bout with the flu.

Elfrieda Mau writes us that she is in St. Francis Hospital in Blue Island due to an auto accident while enroute to DesPlaines, Ill. last December 28th. Seems she has a broken nose and a cracked bone in her back along with several bruises & bumps. I'm sure she would enjoy hearing from all her old friends in Antioch. Why not drop her a card at home - 2309 Canal Street, Blue Island, Illinois 60406. Get well soon Elfrieda!

Kurt E. Markus celebrated his 75th birthday last December 28 with a party for his immediate family in the Golf Mill shopping center.

Stunt driver "Evil Knlevel" has nothing on Antioch's own daredevil Ev Oftedahl. Was that him we saw "flying through the air" loading his new snowmobile on the trailer Saturday????

Belated birthday wishes go to Joyce Woods and Debby Kelly on January 1, to Kathy Haley and Bob Bemis on the 2nd, to Rich Gaston on the 3rd, to Paul Barnett, Mary Hancock and Mat Johnson on the 4th, to John Haley on the 5th, to George Palaske and Deanna Hallwas on the 6th and to David Palaske, Mike Mihovilovich and the Drueger twins who celebrated on the 7th. BLOOD BANK RETURNS TO ST. PETER'S

The Red Cross Blood Bank program, which provides complete coverage to all parishoners of St. Peter's parish, will return to the parish, Saturday, January 26, to take donations of blood for the 1974 quota. The drive will take place from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the Social Center.

Through the Red Cross plan, in return for the group donation of at least 200 pints of blood, the people of the parish can draw on the Blood Bank, for whatever their needs, without individual cost or replacement. This coverage extends to all parishoners, their immediate families, and in some cases their parents and grandparents.

According to Mrs. Thomas Aschbacher, chairman of the program, parents and grandparents of parishoners are covered if they are not able to give blood themselves, even though they may not live in the parish. Anyone who needs blood at anytime throughout the year is encouraged to contact Mrs. Aschbacher, who will make the necessary arrangements with the Red Cross.

Margaret Hawes, Representative from the Midwest Red Cross explained the Parish Blood Bank at all the masses Saturday, Jan. 5 and Sunday Jan. 6.

For further information call Mrs. Aschbacher, chairman, 395-0226. For appointments on Saturday, Jan. 26, call Cathy O'Connor 395-0973 or Mary Barr, 395-3071.

NEW CHRYSLER TO SPEND WINTER IN CHANNEL

A 1974 Chrysler, valued at $9,200, apparently is doomed to spend the rest of the winter half submerged. In the channel between Grass Lake and Lake Marie.

The car broke through the ice on the channel Sunday morning. Witnesses reported seeing three men climb out of the vehicle and walk across the ice.

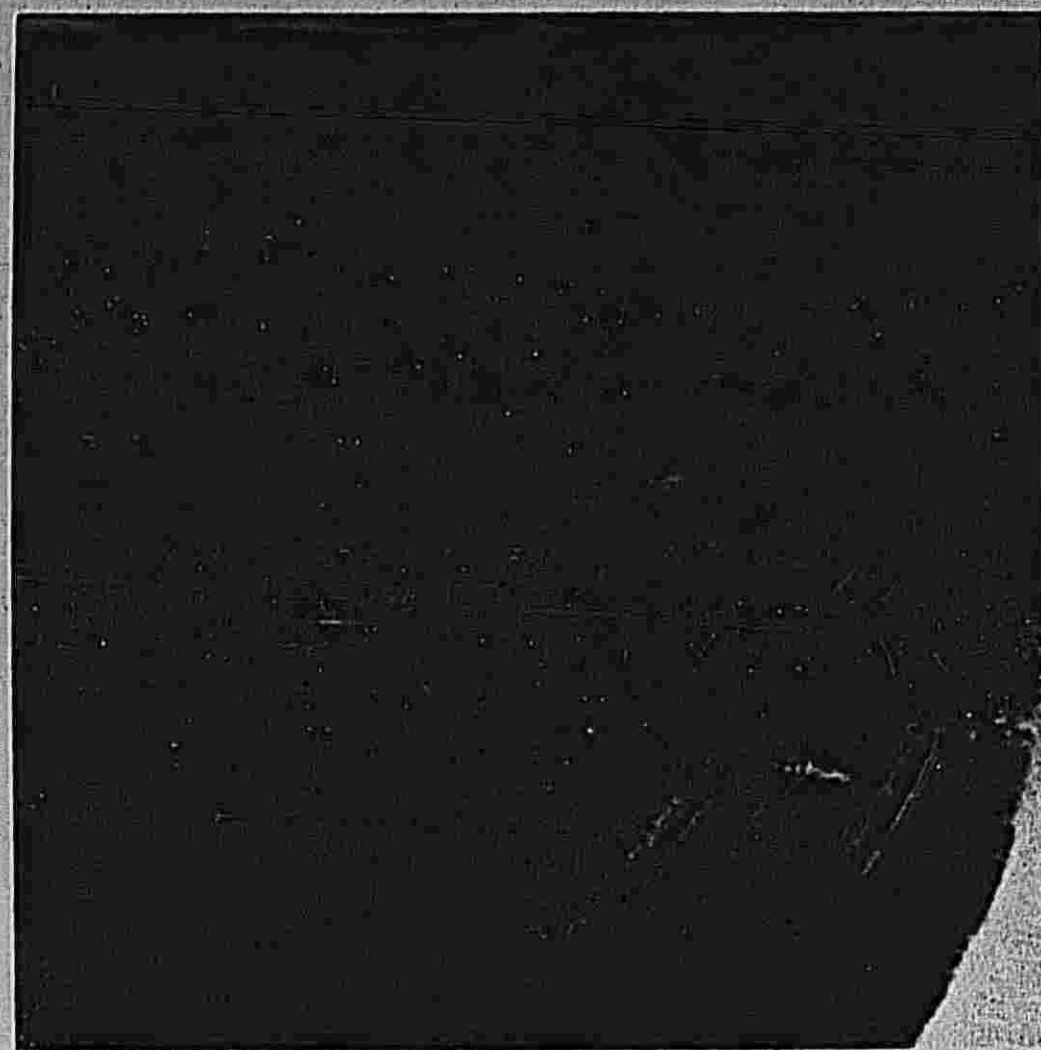

According to one witness, the car was following two snowmobiles across Grass Lake. Another witness told sheriff's investigators that he pursued the car on his snowmobile in an attempt to warn the driver of the dangerously thin ice in the channel. Before he could catch up to the car, the witness said, it fell through the ice.

A spokesman for the Sheriff's office stated that the car is registered to Thomas E. Hughes of a Chicago address. Hughes reportedly told the investigators that a friend of his had taken the keys to the car while Hughes was sleeping at an area resort.

It is not known for sure why the friend was driving on the ice. Nor is it known at this time how the vehicle can possibly be removed before the ice thaws in the Spring.

American Legion Auxiliary

Del Jahneke

"Clip and Snip throughout the year; Soon those checks will be coming here" is only one of the many hard working slogans of the Illinois American Legion Auxiliary's coupon program. Most Illinois Auxiliary members have been busily occupied "clipping and snipping", then saving coupons, stamps, box tops, labels, bottle caps, etc., for a number of years. Funds derived from this project will further department (state) community service programs.

According to both Mrs. Logan Kennedy, Waukegan 548 Unit, and Mrs. Philip Cole, Highland Park, district coupon and community service chairman, respectively, of the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary, the special project of state president, Mrs. William J. Stringer, of Oak Park, is the support of the Kidney Foundation of Illinois, Inc. The Kidney Foundation was organized in 1949 dedicated to the prevention, treatment and cure of kidney diseases, the fourth biggest disease killer in the nation. It afflicts more than 8 million Americans (400,000 in this state alone), and causes 58,000 deaths annually. The major portion of the Kidney Foundation dollar goes for research. Money from the proceeds of the Department Coupon program this year will go to the Kidney Foundation, Inc. Presentation of the first portion of these coupon funds will be made to a representative of the Kidney Foundation at the Department Patriotic Conference, March 21, 1974, with the second presentation made at the State Convention in July.

The other important phase of the state coupon program is providing Seeing-Eye dogs for blind veterans. Through the collection of various redeemable dog food labels, the American Legion Auxiliary is able to furnish these seeing-eye dogs for blind men and women veterans. Ten thousand labels are needed to obtain just one such dog. Cash value of this amount of coupons is approximately $1,500.00. This sum includes three months training of the dog; four weeks training of the dog and master team; round trip transportation to and from the veteran's home; and room and board during the training period.

Many seeing-eye dogs have been provided through the redemption of these dog food labels by the Auxiliary and friends. The dog food labels go directly to the Pilot Dog Foundation from the unit coupon chairman.

All Unit members and friends are urged to keep collecting and saving all redeemable coupons from various premium products. All Units would welcome coupons contributed by members and friends. For any further information, please contact Mrs. Lillian Hand, Antioch Unit coupon chairman.

Mrs. Norman Holt, North Chicago, 10th District President, asks that all the unit chairmen get their semi-annual report of their unit's activities in their particular program to their respective 10th District chairman by January 12th. District chairmen must then get their reports in to Mrs. Ray Suzzi, Highwood, district bulleting chairman, by January 19th, deadline date.

MORE FIRES, MORE TRAINING

MARK 1973 FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Antioch Volunteer Fire Department responded to a total of 151 alarms during 1973; this was about 40 more than during the previous year. It also represented the highest annual total since 1968, when about 230 alarms were answered.

These figures are taken from the annual report given to the Village Board Monday night by Chief Tod Mapletorpe. Of the 151 alarms last year, 69 were within the Village itself, and 82 originated in the First Fire Protection District, which encompasses Antioch Township outside the Village limits.

There were about 10 fewer residential fires in 1973 than in 1972; about the same number of false alarms, recovery and mutual aid alarms; and significantly more commercial, auto, grass and miscellaneous alarms.

The Fire Chief's report indicates that of the $927,700 of property endangered by fires during the year, $734,240 worth was saved through the efforts of the department. Total fire loss in 1973 was $188,460, which was higher than any of the previous five years except 1971.

Training continued to be important during the past year. Tod reported that the department meets at least, twice monthly for training and business. During the past year, 33 firefighters completed a 15-hour firemanship course sponsored by the University of Illinois. Four firemen took advantage of an annual fire college at the University, and five attended the advanced training workshop at Glen Ellyn. During the year, the department also joined the Illinois Fire Protection Personnel and Education Commission.

The major purchases in 1973 were a 1200 gallon tanker by the District, a 1250 gpm Pirsch custom pumper by the Village, a Hurst Tool for forceable entry, 2 Handee-talkies, and 21 pagers. Since the introduction of the pagers, the department has had an average increase of five men at daytime calls.

Happy New Year everyone, hope everyone had a very happy holiday and are now getting back to normal. It's a little strange getting the kids off to school and leaving for work in the dark but those bright afternoons make up for it.

Birthdays in our area kept people busy along with all the Christmas planning. Little, 2 year old Ben Rogers celebrated on Christmas Eve day with his family. This reporter saw another year roll by on the 26th. Brenda Runyard blew out 4 candles on her cake on the 27th. Jeri Gutowski shared her sixth birthday with some of her kindergarten playmates on the 28th. Dave Enzenbacher was 18 on the 30th and Cindy Irmen was 14 on the 31st. Last but not least Joan Bjork celebrated on New Years Day. Chris DeWitt was nine years old on the 28th and had a party for his friends.

A progressive dinner party was held on Christmas Eve by the Bjork, Runyard, Sheen, Bruel and Trussell families. The evening started at Doug and Nancy Runyards for cocktails with hor d'ourves served by Barbara Sheen. Next stop was Barb and Don Bjorks for soup and salad and the main course was a big turkey dinner with all the trimmings at Marg and John Runyards. Dessert was served by Tom and Sue Runyard with one of the highlights being a welcome home cake served by Grandmother Vivian Bruel. The cake was to welcome her grandchildren Calvin Trussell, John Bjork and his sister Joan, and Pat Runyard home from school and jobs for the holidays.

A big congratulations to Bob Bossman and Bill Harland for achieving the rank of Eagle Scout on December 18th. The proud parents of these boys are Bob and Judy Gossman and Dick and Pat Harland.

Ted and Marie Hucker were home to visit their children and grandchildren over the holidays. While here they stayed at their son George and wife Pat Huckers home. They were the guests of honor at a party at Joe and Louise Gutowski's. The Huckers were the original owners of the Gutowski house. People dropping by to see them were Tom and Dorothy Chase, Donna and Dale Conklin, Wayne and Dolly Bobo, Joe Lester, George and Pat Hucker, and Dorothy Enzenbacher.

This reporter and Joe, Barb and Don Bjork, Bob and Lorraine Lemke and Dorothy Enzenbacher dined at Andres Steak House in Richmond, Illinois on New Years eve before attending a really great New Years Eve party at Tom

ABC'S OF TRAVEL

Pointers for the business traveller

One can save a lot from the normal everyday traveling expenses if you know the tricks of the trade. After so many years I am led to believe this is the trade of tricks instead.

If you are self-employed or with a corporation, many hotels motels give a businessman's mid week (Monday - Friday) rate. However, if you don't ask for it, they will not offer it to you. When your travel agency makes the reservation, have him request this rate.

Also your car rentals will give a special businessman's discount anywhere from 5 to 20 percent if requested. Just show your business card if it hadn't been requested ahead of time.

Many airlines are making a fresh approach to business travel which has been forgotten since the jet age came about. Some airlines even go so far as to having business calling cards printed in foreign languages at no expense to you.

Some airlines have a businessman's club which he can join that intitles him to first-class check-in facilities; airport business rooms that have secretarial services, office space, conference rooms, communication facilities, etc. This is all available to you the businessman if one knows what to ask for. Either check with your local travel agent or question the airline itself the next time you travel. A dollar saved is a dollar earned.

FEED THE BIRDS THIS WINTER

While shoveling your way out from the record snowfall that much of Illinois has seen during the past fortnight, the Department of Conservation advises "Don't forget to shovel your way to the bird feeder." And then, keep it filled.

In times of deep snow, birds need help in obtaining their food supply. They have only small amounts of fat stored up in their bodies and must eat more during cold weather to maintain body heat.

"Once you begin feeding birds, you must continue through the winter," cautions Jim Lockart, supervisor of the Division of Wildlife Resources in the Department. "Birds adapt to the handouts, and if discontinued, they will wait around and ultimately die."

Bird feeders are simple to make and food is relatively inexpensive. Most markets carry selections of packaged feed; however, cracked corn will also serve as an excellent meal as well as small grains and sunflower seeds.

Placing of the feeder is also important. Predators are aware of a bird feeder, and it should be placed where cats and squirrels can't molest the feeding flyers.

and Dorothy Chase's home. Over 75 neighbors and friends enjoyed a truly great party and drank, ate and danced into the wee hours of the morning. Then on New Years Day the Chase's had a dinner party for 14 family members and friends which really made their holiday a busy one.

Steve Ryzsko, Sr. is a patient at Victory Memorial undergoing tests. Steve is in room 383. I'm sure some cards and visits from his many friends would be very welcome. Belated birthday wishes go to Mr. Ryzsko who celebrated on Christmas Day.

MARDELL ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Dr. Carol Mardell

Dr. Carol Mardell, assistant professor in the School of Education at Northwestern University, has announced her candidacy for the Office of Superintendent of the Educational Service Region, Lake County. Dr. Mardell, 38, has lived in northern Illinois all her life, the last four years residing in Lake County. She has also received her higher education degrees from Illinois institutions. She has a bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois in Elementary Education; a master's degree from the University of Chicago in educational psychology; and a doctor of philosophy from Northwestern University in communicative disorders.

There are stringent qualifications for those seeking the superintendency, including a valid supervisory or administrative certificate. Dr. Mardell holds both; in addition, she also has a valid elementary certificate, special education certificate, and school psychologist certificate.

Starting out as a classroom teacher for three years, Dr. Mardell then served as the school psychometrist for District 68 in Skokie. After her three children were past the diaper stage, Dr. Mardell worked on a part-time basis in various educational settings in Skokie and later in Highland Park, District 108.

In 1971, Dr. Mardell accepted the responsibility as director of the Learning Disabilities-Early Childhood Research Project in the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. During her two years in the state office, Dr. Mardell traveled extensively throughout the State of Illinois in her supervisory and administrative capacities. The outcome of her research is a test for pre-kindergarten children known as DIAL (Developmental Indicators for the Assessment of Learning). DIAL is an innovative technique for screening and identifying children, 2½-5½ years of age, with potential learning problems, so that schools may help them at the most advantageous time of life for learning. Dr. Mardell is co-author of the DIAL test and inservice training procedures, as well as a book and many articles, with Mrs. Dorothea Goldenberg.

Dr. Mardell would like to turn her dedication, competence, and energy to initiating exciting educational concepts within Lake County. She feels strongly that every child is "special" so that the research from special education should be employed in every classroom at every grade level throughout the county.

Dr. Mardell resides at 1233 Lincoln Avenue South, Highland Park, with her husband, Howard, and her three children, Benjy, 13, Dine, 12, and Ruthie, 10.

Bits from Barb

By: Barb Olson

Now that the holidays are over, students at ACHS are hard at work finishing up the first semester. With semester tests approaching rapidly, there is a lot of studying to get done.

The halls of ACHS were empty last week. The week before school resumed there were no students in the school, except for students participating in athletic practices. It seemed strange to walk in the halls and be surrounded by silence. The halls which are usually so noisy and full of people, seemed lonely and cold.

The boy's basketball teams and wrestling teams took advantage of the holiday vacation to practice. The girl's basketball teams are working hard in preparation for their first game against Grant which will be held at Antioch.

Miss Arendt, the girls coach, pointed out the fact that the rules for girls basketball are similar to those of the boys, except for a few differences. So any spectators watching the girls games will not think it strange if something is done differently than it is done by the boys.

With the beginning of the new year students should try to start the year off by: 1. Studying a little harder. 2. Catching up on their make-up work. 3. Expressing a friendlier attitude towards their teachers. 4. Trying to make a better impression on teachers and classmates.

This isn't that difficult to accomplish, although some student will think it impossible. But if you try, you might be surprised at what you are able to accomplish.

The College of Lake County is offering a course in commercial design with emphasis placed on creative problem-solving. The course is open to individuals interested in developing skills in a variety of phases of commercial design, including layout, finished art, 35 mm slide presentations, calligraphy, typography, and silk screening.

As a course goal, students are presented with problems typically encountered in a studio situation.

Instructor Malcolm Layson, president of Waukegan's Layson Productions Unlimited, has had nearly 20 years of experience in the design field.

The ideas he transmits to the student are derived from his own professional competence.

The 16-week course, listed as ART 132, begins January 17, with classes meeting each Thursday evening from 7 to 10 p.m.

Students unable to register during the central registration period at the college, January 7-9, may still do so from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., January 14-18, at the Grayslake campus.

With A "Stern Eye"

Bob Skidmore Lake County Treasurer, and I, have been on opposite sides of the political fence as long as we've known one another. We live just a few blocks apart and I used to see him and Mrs. S., waiting outside their home for their carpool, almost every morning when I took my commuting husband to the 8:08. I used to honk and he used to wave. He always waved in that cheerful way, even when I was persona non grata to any right-thinking-Republican, in those days of my campaign for County Clerk. There was nothing rigid or 'right-thinking-Republican' about Bob. He was just a fine guy.

Bob died last week. Suddenly, and without any of us knowing that we should take the opportunity to tell him how much we thought of him, he was gone.

This morning, through the wall that separates his office from mine, I could hear the drawers of his desk being opened, inventoried and closed again. It was a very sad sound for men as I had always been able to hear other more companionable noises through the wall—the deafening roar of his sneeze, for instance. The men of my family have never understood about muffling a sneeze and those sounds were familiar and comforting. They meant that someone else human was abroad in that great marble and walnut edifice.

I didn't know Bob Skidmore very well; the elected officials of the county and I—representing the two political parties—keep our personal distance scrupulously. But when he passed through the checks for me to sign or returning checks to us with his own signature, he always waved as he went by: "Hi Gracie. How you doing?"

"Fine Skid, thanks. And you?" That was about the substance of the relationship.

Our boys were in High School together in the Fall of 1970 when we were running for our respective offices on our respective tickets, and the straw poll at Highland Park High, taken that October, went overwhelmingly for both of us, a nice bi-partisan vote. Considering that Highland Park is one of the few 'Democratic pockets' in Lake County, that result is a testimony either to Bob's brand of politics or to the enthusiasm and industry of his son. Knowing my own son at that age and his embarrassment with my notoriety, I have to believe it was a tribute to Bob himself.

The Skidmore brand of politics was not politics at all. He was so far from being a politician in the usual meaning of the word, that many of us found his victory—first in the Primary against Bob Depke, and again in November—hard to analyze. He was a plain, decent man, whose virtues shone all over his face. No speech-maker, no phrase purveyor, Skidmore simply presented himself and the voters drew their own conclusions.

The last time I saw Bob Skidmore was on Friday afternoon, before the long New Year's week-end. A friend and I had eaten a splendid lunch out to celebrate the upcoming holidays, and driven back through the snow to the County Building. Marilyn said she had never ridden in the front seat of a converted convertible, so I immediately undid all the latches and pushed the appropriate buttons to give her that dubious experience. The snow was falling thick and fast as we came down Utica Street, enjoying ourselves hugely. Bob was standing in the window of his office. He waved. And then he did a classic double-take as he put together the falling snow and the convertible and the two mad, middle-aged county employees. He waved again, grinning appreciatively. And then we were past and I didn't see him anymore.

I am told that his name must go on the March ballot, although the reasoning behind such bizarre requirements of law escape me. And after the Primary, the Republican Central Committee will designate a successor for the November ballot. The scuffling and jostling for that nod has already begun which seems tasteless in the circumstances. I am also told that is the name of the game.

The flag outside the County Building is at half-mast and maybe it's more to the point to focus on that rather than on the political dust being raised below...

ANNUAL LAKE COUNTY CLERGY CONFERENCE - JAN. 24, 1974

The Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society is sponsoring an Annual Clergy Conference on Thursday, January 24, 1974, at Victory
Memorial Hospital, Waukegan.
The Rev. Joseph M. Wilcox of the First Christian Church of Waukegan is Chairman. The Conference will aid the Clergy
in ministering to the Cancer Patient.

The speaker will be the Reverend Vincent P. Fish,
Church of the Holy Family, Lake Villa. Eventually every human being must face his own death as well as that of loved ones. Although death is inevitable, most are unprepared to face and accept it. Those realities led to development of an organization called The Foundation of Thanatology of which Rev. Fish is a consultant to. He also is a contributor to the publication "Religion and Bereavement."

The Rev. Joseph M. Wilcox,
Chairman of the Clergy
Conference says he expects 125 Clergy from the County to attend. All Lake County Clergy are cordially invited, please contact the American Cancer
Society, Lake County Unit, 228
N. Genesee, Waukegan
(336-9293) for reservations before January 18th. The film
"What Man Shall Live and Not See Death" will be shown.

Forest, cited the urgent need in the forthcoming campaign.
"More than 675,000 Americans will die this year of heart attack, the number one killer in the nation," he said. "The drive will seek to raise funds to reduce death and disability from heart attack and other heart and blood vessel diseases.
Give generously to support
Heart programs when your Heart Fund volunteer calls."

According to Puder, Heart

"Hindsight's Better Than Foresight"

By: Father Keusal

The forgiveness extended by God looks beyond the hurt to the renewal of the relationship. He considers the relationship to be renewed as more important than putting any conditions or qualifications on the forgiveness.

An example of this would be the mother who explains to her children that their father is just having a bad day. And she does this in a nice tone of voice even after her husband has left the room slamming the door behind him. The mother makes it known to the children that she is not disturbed by her husband's anger. She lets it be known that she is considering their love relationship as more important than the hurt that she has just endured.

In doing this she is setting an example for the children who learn more from example than from books or words of angry hurt. At the same time the mother and wife is taking the risk that she might be hurt again by a refusal of reconciliation but she too is looking to the relationship not to the hurt.

This is the type of forgiveness that the Christian tries to put into practice in his life. And it is only through practice that this type of forgiveness will become an integral part of the Christian and the community in which he lives.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In Matthew 26th we read of the Passover which Jesus ate with his disciples on the night before his crucifixion. In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "SACRAMENT" this Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist this citation from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will be read: "If the disciple is advancing spiritually, he is striving to enter in. He constantly turns away from material sense, and looks towards the imperishable things of Spirit. If honest, he will be in earnest from the start, and gain a little each day in the right direction, till at last he finishes his course with joy."

Services are conducted by Mrs. Barbara Conzelman, First Reader, and Mrs. Lorraine Wirt, Second Reader, at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte 173 & Harden, Antioch, Illinois. The service is at 11 a.m. The public is always invited.

Ask the Governor

Q. I would like to know how you are encouraging the public to conserve fuel. Are you enacting any laws to help save our fuel? What are you, personally, doing to save fuel?

A. I appreciate the interest and concern expressed in your recent letter.

We in government are the ones to assume leadership in energy conservation and to set a practical example for consumers and other levels of government.

I have ordered immediate implementation of an austerity fuel conservation plan throughout the offices and agencies under my authority. This program requires state employees driving state-owned cars to observe a maximum speed limit of 50 mph (other than police or emergency vehicles). Also, state employees using state-owned cars are to make every effort to assure that cars are used to transport at least two persons including the driver.

We are requiring all state building occupants to lower the thermostats to 69 degrees or lower; all departments are cutting back on their use of state-owned vehicles; employees are to turn off lights when leaving their offices and many other similar steps have been ordered.

As you may remember, I got rid of the state's limousines and now no director drives a monster limousine.

I have met several times with top officials of utility and power companies on the fuel problem. One of the agreements we reached was that the utilities would suggest fuel conservation steps and will not urge or advertise for increased use of fuel.

We inaugurated an agriculture hot line to help farmers find fuel in the event their suppliers run short.

I could go on, but the list should be sufficient. I want to emphasize, though, that there is very little a state can do. We must look to Washington for help and thus far, I regret to say, all we have had is confusion.

Q. The five states that surround Illinois have fewer school districts than the entire state of Illinois. Does your administration have any plans to change the number of school districts in Illinois in the next two years?—Watsela.

A. I favor the consolidation of school districts because it saves the taxpayers money, but I am not going to cram it down anyone's throat. I do not approve of the penalties that were utilized in the past to force dual districts into unit districts.

If Springfield tells you how big a district you should have, local control is being taken away. So, while I would like to see larger districts because of the efficiency that would result from consolidation, I want the decision concerning consolidation to be made not by me, not by bureaucrats in Springfield, but by people who have come to realize that consolidation is good Friday night, December 21, the Wauconda Bulldogs visited Antioch and went home a 62-0 loser. Scott Shaffer and Dirk Dietz continued to be impressive winners for the wrestling Sequoits but little else went well as the varsity lost Saturday to Woodstock and Irving Crown. Shaffer and Dietz, both placing second in the prestigious Glenbrook South Tournament, won by impressive scores. Antioch gets another try at Woodstock this weekend as the Sequoits wrestle at Woodstock Friday night.

This past weekend Antioch's Sophomore Sequoit wrestlers continued to win with dual meet victories over Glenbard South and Irving Crown. The win over Crown High School was especially sweet for the Sequoits because Crown was undefeated with a perfect 11-0 dual meet record. The victory was even more satisfying because just two weeks ago Crown had out-scored the Antioch team by 26 points in the Antioch Christmas Tourney. The Sequoits are currently undefeated with 12 wins against 0 losses.

Standout performances this weekend for Antioch came from 167 pound Dick Kessler, 145 pound Dave Bogaerts, 138 pound Mike Walsh, 119 pound Greg Nordstrom, 112 pound

John Pocrnich and 105 pound John Davis - all had double wins for the day. Rich Coles and Mark Ring, the Sequoit one-two punch at 132 pounds, each had a pin in their match.

After twelve dual-meets and one tournament the individual point scoring for the Sequoits is: Nordstrom - 76, Davis - 61, Kessler - 58, Pocrnich - 57, Aerne - 56, Walsh - 51, Bogaerts - 39, Jorgensen - 36, Ingoglia - 26, Coles - 24, Ring - 24, Muehlnickel - 24, Lawrence - 12, Haley - 6, Chiapetti - 6, Morgan - 6, and Cook - 3.

The Antioch Sophomore matmen wrestle at Woodstock High School on Friday (January 11, 1974) in a key N.W.S.C. match beginning at 6:45 p.m. Antioch, Woodstock and Grant currently are tied for the N.W.S.C. Sophomore lead with 4-0 records.

Frosh Cagers Down Mundelein

Antioch's freshman basketball teams defeated Mundelein in two games played at Antioch last Saturday. The "A" team won 28-27 on a last second shot by Mark Stewart. The "B" team had little trouble in coasting to a 21 to 12 win. It was the second win of the season for the "A" squad and the first victory for the "B" team.

In the "A" game Antioch used a very tough man-to-man press to throw the visiting Mustangs completely off their game. But poor shooting by the home team kept the score low. Rick Dauck provided the spark to ignite an Antioch rally in the fourth quarter as he dropped in eight points in the period. Stewart, in addition to his late heroics, had six points and led the rebounders with eight. Pat Mullins also had eight rebounds.

Coach Norm Hahn expressed a great deal of satisfaction with the play of his team. He commended Don Norwick and Scott Nohara for their hustle and Pat Houghton for his heady play. "Pat did a good job in the fourth period feeding our post men so that we could break their zone. And Don and Scott really hustled on the press. Actually all the guys gave 110 percent."

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COUNTIES ANNOUNCES STEERING COMMITTEE APPOINTMENT

Lake County Chairman Ronald Coles has been appointed a member on the National Association of Counties Crime and Public Safety Steering Committee. The announcement was made by Gil Barrett, President of the National Association of Counties.

The Crime and Public Safety Steering Committee meets periodically to discuss and develop national positions on legislation and other matters relating to the criminal justice system including law enforcement, courts and corrections; civil disturbances; firearm control; juvenile delinquency; alcohol and drug abuse; and emergency preparedness.

One of its principal tasks this year is the development of statements for revision of the American County Platform, the official policy document of the National Association of Counties. The Platform will be presented to the convention delegates at the NACo annual conference in Dade County, Florida, July 14-17, 1974.

ST. PETER'S 8th GRADE WINS TOURNAMENT

Holiday time usually means tournament time in the sports world. St. Peter's 8th grade boys were invited to participate in the Annual Basketball Tournament at Salem Grade School in Wisconsin.

The competition was great and there were many good athletes from various schools, namely Burlington, Lake Villa, Kenosha, Paris, Bristol, River-view, Salem and Antioch. St. Peter was really wound-up and determined to come home with a 1st place trophy—which they did. Their coaches, Mr. R. Darre, Reed Ano and Bob Huebner were confident that the boys would go all the way, by the way they played. The team members are: C. Ano, J. Becker, K. Davis, L. Hanson, D. Walpole, T. Heverdjes, Tom Huebner, T. Mahoney, Tim Huebner, M. Mihovilovich, W. Nowakowski, A. Roth, J. Springer, P. Telinski.

St. Peter's beat Bristol 57-42. Leading scorers were: Ano, and both Huebners. In the regular schedule St. Peter's is 4 and 1.

EMMONS TOPS

ANTIOCH 42-27

The Emmons Raiders, having a cold night, controlled its game with Antioch Upper Grade School nevertheless.

Trailing 5-0, Bill Dubek blocked four shots to keep Emmons alive in the first period. Emmons then hit for three unanswered baskets to take a lead that was never seriously threatened thereafter.

Leading by a single point, Dubek turned on the firepower to help Emmons pull away in the second period. Dubek contributed seven of Emmons 11 second period points. This surge in offensive thrust, along with a pressure defense gave Emmons a 17-11 halftime lead.

Outscoring Antioch 25-16 in the second half Emmons coasted to the 42-27 win.

The seventh grade game found Emmons a winner in a thriller. Roger Plechaty hit a lay-up with three seconds in the game to give Emmons an exciting 23-21 victory. The game was a see-saw battle in which the lead exchanged hands fourteen times. With the game knotted for the last time, Plechaty played the hero's role.

Rob Naumen and Antioch's Steve Dauch shared game honors with 8 points. Plechaty added six for the winning Raiders.

The eighth grade statistics show that Emmons shot 33 percent with 20 for 60. Antioch with the middle shut off by Dubek, who blocked 10 shots, hit on 10 of 46 for 21 percent. Tracy Sodman led the Raiders in rebounding with 15, while added 8. Dubek notched a game high 14 points, while Bill Strzelecki and John Eder counted for eight each. The losing Apaches were led by Dennis Kortjencek with 13 points. Antioch's leading scorer, Brian Andrews, was held to 2 points until late in the fourth quarter when he added 5 to total 7.

Emmons plays two games next week when they travel to Big Hollow, Tues. Jan. 15 and entertain Spring Grove Thursday Jan. 17 at 3:30 p.m.

SEQUOITS WIN OVER MUNDELEIN

Last Friday the Antioch Sequoits traveled to Mundelein and defeated the Mustangs 67-57 for their ninth win of the season. The team was lead in scoring by Russ Albano, who hit the nets for 19 points. Three other Sequoits also hit for double figures, Mark Andrews and Vic McGuire scored 15 points each, and Mike Perrone scored 12 points.

Mike Gutowski missed the school record for assists, by a couple as he had ten assists for the game. "He did a very good job passing off to the open man," coach Roger Andrews said.

The game was marred by many turnovers by the Sequoits, but thanks to a great second quarter, the Antioch cagers prevailed to win by ten points.

Mundelein, using a good full court zone press, moved out to a small lead during the first quarter. From a 12-11 lead, Mundelein scored four points in the last 32 seconds to finish the quarter leading 16-11.

In the second quarter, the Sequoits played some fine basketball as they outscored the Mustangs 31-11. The Sequoits took control of the boards, displayed some very good defense and shot extremely well from the field. "In all, the team played a complete brand of basketball during the second quarter," concluded coach Andrews. The team used the fast break effectively and hit from the field at 67 percent, making 12 of 18 shots. Mark, Vic and Russ led the assault by scoring 8 points each. The quarter ended with the Antioch

CLOSE YOUR EYES AND HOPE. Antioch Sophomore Scott Kimball (43) seems to have taken a hopeful, eyes-closed shot in the game against Mundelein. Whatever method he used, Kimball took high-point honors for the game, as Antioch won 56 - 45. (staff photo)

VIC SCORES AGAIN. Vic McGuire puts up two more points as he helps lead the Sequoits past Mundelein. After a slow start, Antioch came alive in the second quarter, and won the game 67 - 57. (Staff photo) cagers enjoying a 42-27 lead.

The second half was slow and marred by some poor plays on the part of both teams. After the great second quarter, the Sequoits just couldn't get started again, but played well enough to win the game.

Antioch fans who have been waiting to see the team in action since the last home game on December 14, should be well satisfied this weekend. The Sequoits will entertain visiting squads twice, Woodstock on Friday and Lake Forest on Saturday. Though the regular season is already half completed, only 2 of the 13 games played so far have been on the Sequoits' home floor.
